

9/04/2019

The Institute for Justice and Growth at H.E. the President of the Hellenic Republic

H.E. the President of the Hellenic Republic, Mr Prokopios Pavlopoulos received on Tuesday 9 April, 2019, the Scientific Council of the Institute for Justice and Growth of the European Public Law Organization (EPLO).

The discussion was related to Justice in Greece, the necessary reforms needed for the legal system, the possible applications of artificial intelligence and in general new technologies in the field of justice and their implications, the training of judges, the crisis of institutions and the need to protect and defend them and the revision of the constitution.

Given that the strategic focus of the Institute's activities is related to the scientific study of pathogens in contemporary legal systems, as well as the search for effective solutions and the formulation of comprehensive proposals for necessary reforms, the meeting concluded by emphasizing on the crucial role that the Institute for Justice and Growth can and must play through its scientific personnel as an agency of an international Organization of international recognition such as the European Public Law Organization.

The European Public Law Organization and the Institute were represented by: the EPLO Director Professor Spyridon Flogaitis and the President of the Institute for Justice and Growth Nikolas Kanellopoulos, as well as: Kousoulis Konstantinos, Counselor of State, Mitrou Lilian, Professor at the University of the Aegean, Department of Information and Communication Systems Engineering, Member of the National Council of Radio and Television, Botopoulos Konstantinos, Lawyer, Professor of Constitutional Law, Oikonomou Kyriakos, Supreme Court judge, Panagiotopoulos Panagiotis, Public Prosecutor, Statha Ourania, Deputy Public Prosecutor, Raikos Dimitrios, President of the Second Instance Court of Appeal of the United Nations, President at the Court of Appeal of Administrative Jurisdictions, Associate Professor of the Department of Public Law and Political Science, Law School of the Democritus University of Thrace, Triantafyllakis Georgios, Professor of Commercial Law, Law School of the Democritus University of Thrace, Karvelis Georgios, Director for eGovernance of the Institute for Justice and Growth, Eleni Kefali, Director for Reform for Justice and Growth of the Institute for Justice and Growth.