Event on "Water Scarcity in the Mediterranean"

The EPLO Institute for Sustainable Water Management and Water Law, in collaboration with the German Academic Exchange Service \(DAAD\), Greece and with the support of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation, invites you to a timely scientific event on "Water Scarcity in the Mediterranean." on Wednesday 10 July 2025 at 18:30 (Athens Time) at the EPLO Plaka Premises.

Bringing together a diverse audience of EPLO members and associates, former DAAD and Alexander von Humboldt Foundation fellows, researchers, and engaged citizens, this event aims to foster dialogue on one of the most pressing environmental challenges facing the region.

Participants will have the opportunity to exchange insights, share research, and explore sustainable solutions related to water scarcity, while networking across disciplines and institutions.

Join us for an evening of meaningful discussion, expert perspectives, and collaborative engagement on this vital issue.
