

16/05/2016

Memorandum of Understanding Between EPLO and the Technological Educational Institute of Athens

A Memorandum of Understanding was signed between the European Public Law Organization (EPLO) and the Technological Educational Institute of Athens (TEI Athens) on Monday May 16, 2016, at the offices of the Institute in Athens.

The MoU foresees cooperation between the two parties for designing and implementing innovative consulting and research projects in areas of common interest such as the protection of human rights, public administration, e-Government, the codification of legislation, employment, vocational training, tourism, immigration, asylum, etc.

Also in the planning and implementation of development programs and applied research projects at transnational, national, regional and local level, the organizing of scientific conferences, seminars and workshops as well as vocational training and lifelong education programs.